Leigh Preston MPAGB, FRPS, EFIAP – Night Walk

NIGHT WALK – This is about taking pictures in the small hours, not just of iconic buildings, but of street occurrences, industry, urban landscapes and locations where really long exposure times are necessary – e.g. on Dartmoor, in the Yorkshire Dales, starlight etc. There are also images of events at night. Much of this work is on the theme of walking at night with a camera and a tripod.

Leigh has over forty years of experience with a wealth of knowledge. He is a PAGB judge and lecturer, and is well known throughout the UK for the quality of his work and his lecturing. He has a vast range of material from his travels, and he travels widely not just for his photographs but also to lecture throughout the UK and beyond. He has had many awards and has distinctions to his name.
